

FAQs

How much do I get paid per email?

$0.17 for every email that reaches Accepted status. Rejected emails are not paid.

How many emails do I need to get paid?

30 approved emails reaches the $5 minimum payout.

What happens if I don't reach the $5 minimum?

Chemin needs a minimum of $5 in approved earnings before it can process a payout. This is how Chemin's payment system works across all projects, not just this one. If your earnings from this project land under $5, the balance is not lost. It carries over to the next month. If you take on another project before then, your earnings from that project add to the same balance. Once the combined total crosses $5, Chemin pays it out.

How long until I know if my submission was approved, and when do I get paid?

Submitted emails are not approved right away. Here's the timeline:

- Accepted or rejected: 15 to 20 days after submission.
- Final approval from the end client: can take up to 30 days total.
- Payment: goes out in the next available payment cycle after approval.

Step	Example 1	Example 2
Email submitted	13 July	17 July
Final approval received	13 August	17 August
Payment cutoff used	15 August	15 September (the 15 Aug cutoff already passed)
Payment received by	25–30 August	25–30 September

Why did my submission get rejected?

The most common reasons are a personal sender domain, a subject line that is not in Malay or Indonesian, a full domain or slot quota, a duplicate subject line, or an email dated before 1 March 2023. Check section 3 for the full list.

How will I know if my submission was rejected?

Your submission history on the platform shows live status for every upload. Rejected items show the reason. You can submit a replacement at any time.

Can a good email still get rejected?

Yes. If the domain or slot reaches its cap before your upload goes through, it gets rejected even if the email itself was fine. Check Browse Available Slots first to reduce this risk.

Is this Chemin's platform?

No. It is the partner's platform. You work on it independently, using your own account and login.

What payment methods can I use to get paid?

You need a valid payment method on file to receive your payout once you cross the $5 minimum. Accepted methods are bank transfer, e-wallet, or PayPal.

Is this legitimate?

Yes. This is real, paid work run by Chemin. It's normal to feel unsure the first time you're asked to export your own emails and upload them to a platform you've never used before. Here's why it's safe: you decide which emails to submit, you can skip anything you're not comfortable sharing, and the platform redacts the email body before anything reaches the client. Only the subject line and sender address ever leave the platform. You are paid for every email that gets accepted
